Dedication

The University of Bridgeport has made dynamic strides forward in academic areas as well as in the development of its physical plant in its brief history. Members of the University's Board of Trustees have been a leading force in this progress.

Alfred Van Sant Bodine was elected Chairman of the University of Bridgeport's Board of Trustees in 1950. UB is but one of the many Bridgeport and Connecticut organizations fortunate enough to have the benefit of his understanding guidance and leadership.

In the nine short years of the existence of the University of Bridgeport, Mr. Bodine has led the way for two-thirds of the journey. During his term, the University has grown from a few small old buildings on what was known as the Fairfield Avenue Campus to a bustling campus with thirty-one buildings on its present Seaside Park site.

Erection of the Carlson library, construction of the Gymnasium now underway renovation of Loyola Hall into the Alumni Student Center, acquisition of Stamford Hall and Wilton Hall as well as plans for additional dormitory and classroom space are indications of the University's continued expansion under Mr. Bodine's leadership.

The future of the University of Bridgeport is unlimited. Located on what is potentially one of the most beautiful college campuses in the nation and advantageously situated near one of the nation's heaviest population centers, the University cannot help but become an outstanding institution of higher learning.

Members of the Board of Trustees as well as administrative officials have conscientiously given a great deal of their valuable time and effort to insure that the University's future will be on a sound basis.

Mr. Bodine is making sure that the Class of 1956, those before it, and those still to come, will be just as proud of their degrees from the University of Bridgeport as we are sure Mr. Bodine is to hold the position of Chairman of the Board of Trustees for a long time to come.

We, the staff of the 1956 Wistarian proudly and humbly dedicate this book to Alfred Van Sant Bodine.

Graduates

1956—To the Graduating Class it is a year of promise. In our hearts we have mingled feelings — feelings of happiness and, sometimes, sorrow. Now we must part and go on our separate paths of life.

During these years at our University we have had many experiences. We entered as children and emerge as adults ready and willing to take our place in society. Before us we have many duties to perform. Although our paths may differ and our objectives vary, our duties are strikingly similar.

Today we are faced with an uneasy world. Tyranny and oppression, poverty and ignorance exist in many places. We must overcome these evils and obstacles. To do so will not be an easy task. In part, we have been prepared to combat the evils of our world. Our education has given us the means to help alleviate these conditions to become good citizens and serve our Nation and our God. In a short period of time many of us will be employed in vocations and professions for which we trained.

The hours of study and classes will soon be forgotten but the recollections of classmates and good times will not fade away so quickly. It is the hope of your yearbook that we may help you in keeping these fleeting moments ever present, no matter how many miles or years away from your Alma Mater you travel.

Underclassmen

These are the signposts, mark them well — We travel this way but once.

As Freshman we are all knowing — Our first registration line — Oh well, Beanies aren't so bad, you can always take them off when no one's around — Who me? Beanie Court? A mid semester B — Our first Fraternity Bids — Keep off probation — A "d" in Psychology.

A sophomore is a "wise fool" — We own the Club — Old Fraternity man or new? — She's pinned — Sorority meeting — What's your Q.P.R.? — Econ & Soc, oh brother — See you at Fones — There's a table over there — No, I've got a nite class — Slept through my 8:00 class — I here he's going on Sabbatical — I only need 12 more Convocations — Hey, I have to take Health Ed 102 yet — About time to choose my major — Some of us graduate.

We watch and wait — After the Junior year it's all downhill — We're over the hump — Marriage? — Not 'till I finish school — Quiet and studious — Until the weekend — Still need 8 convocations — Have to study this semester — President of the Fraternity — What ever happened to that kid in our Psychology 104 class? — Gets longer every year — Only 24 more semester hours — Why go to summer school?

Activities

A well-rounded education not only denotes the adoption of the traditional scholastic studies, but also a participation in the social activities of the university. Along Park Place is a large white building shown on the opposite page. The gold letters read "Alumni Hall Student Center," but within these doors is formed the nucleus of the social life of the University of Bridgeport. Here are planned all events ranging from Freshman Week to the Senior Ball; from club meetings and dances to pinnings and engagements.

It is at Alumni where social activities plan out the theory "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." In this case, "Jack," the typical U.B. student, makes up the nucleus of the various committees, organizations, and working groups that form to spread themselves over Seaside Park, our campus. A gown and tux give us our formal activities, but coffee, music, and a corner gab-fest in Alumni plan out the social life that one can find every day of the school year without so much as a second glance around the first floor.

The Social Activities Committee, around which all university functions revolve, has its headquarters in Alumni Hall but the work it does may be done at a bull session, at the Ritz, at Lenny's, or at Glorietta. The brainwork and the brawnwork is done by your many social activities committees, but their reward is the enjoyment and pleasure of the many students attending the functions that they have worked on so diligently.

Intertwined with the more important activities and affairs, we find the social life of the campus not entirely confined to formals or other university functions. We find our dorm parties and dances, occasional get-togethers, and numerous other events which can rightly be called social activities.

The fond memories, unduplicated joys, and innumerable hours of entertainment and relaxation from studies are as much a part of the life of the students and social activities as are homework, term papers, and finals.

The Social Activities Committee plays a significant role in the life of the University of Bridgeport. The main purpose of this organization is to direct and co-ordinate the three major social events of the school year. The students who actively participate with the planning of these school functions possess willingness, social mindedness, and efficiency.

The first dance of the year was the Christmas Ball, which took place at the Ritz Ballroom on December 9. Charlie Spivak and his band had the honor of serenading the largest group that has ever attended a University function. At the Christmas Ball of 1955 a new tradition was started; the first Snowflake Queen was crowned. Cute and blonde Lynda Zahler won both the title of "Snowflake Queen," and the hearts of many.

The annual Sweetheart Dance, which is the second dance, took place on February 24. Many eyes were gleaming and many faces glistening as the sweethearts of UB danced the evening away.

A beautiful May weekend aided the Social Activities Committee with the sponsoring of the annual Wistaria Weekend. The annual formal, crowning of the Queen, and pageant, formally terminated this year's social activities.

Five event packed days, the most successful Freshman Week in University history, greeted 600 UB yearlings when they arrived on campus last September. Co-Chairmen Nick Panuzio and Bert Siegel, with the aid of a well-chosen hand-picked committee of 32 upper-classmen, whipped arrivals from all four winds into a cozy, friendly group to be henceforth known as the Class of 1959.

Christmas Ball

Student Activities Committee put on its long white whiskers and presented the annual Christmas Ball with Charlie Spivak and his band.

Lovely Linda Zahler was crowned "Snowflake Queen" and recieved a trophy from the brothers of Sigma Omicron Sigma.

Mellow music, soft lights, beautiful decorations . . . the north pole was never like this! The familiar strains of "Goodnight Sweetheart" mingled with cries of "Merry Christmas" floating across the dance floor to bring one of the highlights of the University social Calendar to a close.

Campus Thunder '56

Like a sudden summer storm, "CAMPUS THUNDER '56" drenched our campus with lilting melodies and sparkling performances.

In the true Barnum tradition of extravagance and splendor, this year's "Thunder" hit Bridgeport with the biggest roar of all. "The Twenties", in all of its gaily and carelessness was recaptured, relived, and relished for three evenings by capacity audiences.

Students and public alike applauded Albert Dickason and his all-star cast as they sang and danced their way into UB history.

Greeks

Each of the thirteen emblems on the opposite page has a special meaning to the members of the Greek Letter organization it signifies. Each emblem represents a bond, a brotherhood, an almost physical tie, which will survive both distance and time. Each emblem is worn proudly.

The stein and the pipe signify the good times, the beer parties, the unforgettable week ends, and the pleasant, relaxed feeling experienced when one is among the closest friends he will ever have.

Greek Letter life is not all fun and relaxation however; there is charity work to be done, there are brothers to be helped, there are principles of leadership to be learned.

Within the confines of the Greek Letter groups the member learns a spirit of cooperation and an appreciation of the rights and feelings of others without which any amount of education is wasted.

The words "Fraternity" and "Sorority" are not empty words on this campus. It is impossible to find an adequate substitute for these words, for those whose pictures appear on the following pages carry the synonym in their hearts.

Good-will and cooperation has been the keynote of the Inter-Fraternity Council, the governing body of the Greek letter groups on campus.

The Council, founded in 1947 by Greek letter men, had its charter adopted in 1948. The purpose of this organization is to have the ideas of the ten fraternities and three sororities presented by their delegates and considered by all. An important function of the group is the planning of the University social calendar for the coming year. The Greek Letter Dance, an annual event, is sponsored by the group. Each year a Greek Goddess is elected to reign as Campus Aphrodite for the coming year.

Sigma Phi Alpha was the first fraternity to be chartered on the University of Bridgeport Campus, receiving their charter in 1947. Sigma Phi Alpha has always been a leader in everything they have undertaken.

Every year Sigma Phi Alpha awards a $100 scholarship to a student who is outstanding in athletics, has good scholastic grades, and is in financial need of assistance.

The pledges are characterized by different costumes every semester, with Davey Crockett the theme of this year's pledge class.

Theta Sigma, founded at the University of Bridgeport upon fellowship and loyalty to one another, has endeavored to develop in its members a high degree of leadership; an example of which may be found in the many offices and positions of responsibility that Theta Sigma men have attained.

Traditions of the fraternity include an annual Christmas party at the Crippled Children's Workshop, the Red Cross drive, and the annual "Football" dance, which this year shared publicity with hurricane Diane. Semi-annual pledge weeks and the annual homecoming and reunion meetings with its alumni have become traditional.

The continued success of Theta Sigma from its origin in 1947 may be attributed to an underlying devotion to fellow members and to the fraternity name.

Delta Epsilon Beta fraternity was founded in October, 1947, on the principles of Brotherhood and Sociability. One of the oldest fraternities on campus, it places equal emphasis on studies, social activities and sports.

The fraternity tradition includes a bi-annual pledge period during which members are tested and initiated without public embarrassment. In the true spirit of fraternity, DEB prides itself on the many national and racial extractions represented by their members, which includes students from all parts of the world; an organization which literally unites members of all races and nationalities into a brotherhood.

The aims of the fraternity are to promote good will, friendship, and good fellowship.

Since its inception in 1947, the brothers of Pi Omega Chi have been prominent on the campus scene. POC men have held positions on the Scribe, Student Council, Inter-fraternity Council, and Social Activities Committee throughout their history.

On September 30, 1955, Bettian Fisch was presented as the Sweetheart of the fraternity at the 8th annual dance.

The traditional pledge goatees and green berets appeared twice this year, along with torchlight ceremony staged at the statue of the fraternity's patron saint, P. T. Barnum.

Public service to both community and school, a strong alumni organization, and many parties have been associated with the brothers of Pi Omega Chi.

In the latter months of 1947, a small group of students (Veterans) were united to form a social fraternity for the purpose of promoting peace, charity, scholarship and fellowship among all men, irrespective of color, race, or creed.

An outstanding objective of Alpha Gamma Phi is the promotion of student spirit. This year as in the past, the fraternity has expressed this objective by its men holding positions of leadership in all phases of student life.

Starting this year, in honor of our deceased brother Jimmy Kanopanus, we will award annually a plaque for outstanding leadership in intra-mural sports. A part of our tradition is the dispensement with "Hell Week" for prospective members.

Kappa Beta Rho was founded November 3, 1947, and its constitution was accepted and approved by the University in March, 1948, thus establishing a social fraternity based on the principles of truth, fellowship and honor.

Early in the fall semester of each year since its inception, the fraternity has the bestowed privilege of initiating the social season by presenting its annual dance, Kappa's Kickoff Kaper. However, KBR men never rest on their laurels, therefore, the school year is dotted with many parties and functions, namely, The Friends and Alumni Dance and the famous April Stag.

The fraternity also pursues a vigorous policy of intramural participation, fielding teams in all sports.

Kappa Beta Rho prides itself in its members and alumni as gentlemen and leaders who have contributed to the perpetuity and integrity of school and fraternity.

On April 8, 1948, the first sorority and seventh Greek letter organization on campus, Beta Gamma, came into existence. It was founded on the ideals of understanding and practice of honor, loyalty, and truth.

Each year the social activities of Beta Gamma have as their climax an open dance which precedes the sorority weekend. This year it was held in April.

With "Vita Hanaries" as their guiding motto, the Beta Gamma sisters strive to keep their belief above all others.

During the fall of 1948 sixteen co-eds united to form Theta Epsilon, a non-sectarian sorority, dedicated to promoting better human relations among the various racial, religious, and nationality groups on campus.

Each semester two weeks are put aside for pledging eligible girls from all colleges of the University. Pledging activities include an informal party, a formal tea, and a dinner-dance.

The sorority motto, "toutes ensemble," exemplifies all activities undertaken by the group. Hospital volunteer work, a Christmas trip to the Margaret Ford Children's Cottage, a float in the Barnum Festival Parade, and the gala "Masquerade Ball" held every October, are but some of TE's traditional activities.

Theta Epsilon endeavors to develop the qualities of leadership, character, fellowship, and scholarship in its members.

Upsilon Beta Sigma, formerly known as the United Brotherhood Society, was formed in February of 1949 by a group of students interested in furthering interracial and interreligious brotherhood on campus. It became a recognized fraternity in November of 1951.

In fulfilling their initial goal, the members of Upsilon Beta Sigma have in the past sponsored several lectures, whose themes were related to better brotherhood.

All the members have given much extar time to make U.B.S. one of the most progressive fraternities on campus. The holding of many informal parties has well illustrated that Upsilon Beta Sigma is on its way to being a highly rated organization.

Editor, Howard Broder and Managing Editor Charles Anderson.

Business Manager, Jack Martin, and assistant Ivan Schaffel go over the books.

The one and only Bill Wright bangs out his column "Along Park Place."

News Editor Murray Pruess shows typist Shirley Miller what to do with a story.

September, and once again extra-curricular activities began. One of the major topics of discussion on campus was the first place award given to the '55 Wistarian in the Columbia Yearbook Exhibition.

Bill Daly, Editor-in-Chief, began his search for talent in early fall of '55. With Charles Bristol, Managing Editor, and Steve Tolkin as Feature Editor, the book began. Dick Handler was named Lay-Out Editor and Jim Murphy signed on as Assistant Feature Editor during those early months.

The group began to occupy the Wistarian office, otherwise known as the "Black Hole of Calcutta." Ably assisted by two very charming and competent typists, Judy Andres and Norma Buck, the "brain-trust" carried on.

Locked away in their third floor garret, the staff spent many long and arduous hours preparing your yearbook. On numerous occasions we were visited by Mr. Victor H. O'Neill, our publisher, through whose guidance the yearbook steadily progressed.

With February came snow, rain, sleet, hail, mud, a new deck of pinochle cards, the annual cleaning of the tap pipes at the club, the annual cleaning of the coffee urns in Alumni, registration, and the Wistarian deadline.

The motley crew which assembled spasmodically in the Wistarian Office (Student Council's broom closet or the "Black Hole of Calcutta") would like to thank those people whose aid (above and beyond the call of duty) proved (beyond the shadow of a doubt) invaluable. (What can I tell you?)

The group received national recognition in the form of a charter granted by their sponsor, B'nai Brith.

The Women's Athletic Association sponsors a varied intra-mural program for all women students. Any girl who is interested may participate in any activity of her choice and also select the team of her choice.

The Women's Athletic Association awards two traveling trophies—the Challenge Trophy, which is presented to the team that has won the most number of activities during the year, and the Participation Trophy, which is awarded to the organization, hall, or sorority that has had the most number of people participate throughout the year.

A point system also went into effect, giving the individual girl an opportunity to obtain an intra-mural or varsity sweater.

With the new gymnasium, the Women's Athletic Association will augment the number of activities it offers. It also sponsors the Annual Publications Dinner to honor outstanding campus leaders for their contributions to the University.

The work of Pi Delta is educational in that it strives to teach the ethics, technique, and mechanics of collegiate journalism. It guides and instructs and has been nicknamed the "Watchdog of Campus Publications".

Among the brothers of Pi Delta Epsilon are many famous names in the fields of journalism and public relations. Pi Delta Epsilon takes its members from the various publications on campus as well as choosing honorary members each year from the various journalistic outlets of the city and state. Be with me God, and help me win . . . The contest of today . . . But let me hear with humble heart . . . The praises people say . . . Let me be perfect in my form . . . And let each win be true . . . And let me take a certain pride . . . In everything I do . . . But fill my soul with honesty . . . And listen to my prayer . . . That every time I play the game . . . I play it fair and square . . . Because the glory of this world . . . Can only last so long . . . And there is bound to be an end . . . To every magic song . . . And every victory I gain . . . Belongs at last to you . . . Because you give me all the strength . . . To see each struggle through . . .

It is with this thought in mind that University of Bridgeport athletes take the field to represent the school, the students, and themselves.

This attitude, if you can call it that, is what has led Jim Davins, shown on the opposite page, to his position of First String All-American on the National College Athletic Association Soccer Team.

It is with this thought in mind that we present the athletes of today — the leaders of tomorrow.

The Varsity "B" at the University of Bridgeport has come a long way since its inception in 1954. The role it has played is a diversified one for it has bolstered both student spirit and athletic unity. Lettermen from every sport are represented by this organization.

Its purpose is not only to promote interest in athletics at the University of Bridgeport, but to maintain and foster a warm relationship between the athletic alumni and the lettermen now enrolled at the university. This is accomplished by both periodic meetings and banquets; one of the latter being held to honor our All-American.

Although this organization is in its embryonic stage, it has inter-varsity cooperation which will soon bring the Varsity "B" Club to its full and wholesome maturity.

CHEERLEADERS

Endowed with the commodity known as enthusiasm, our Purple and White rooters have been labeled "rah-rah," and they kind of like it. The squad of '55-'56 has been enlarged to 12 girls for the football games and 8 for the basketball games.

Vivacious and charming, these are the "U never say die" folks, whose goal is spirit and whose hearts are inscribed with the wins and losses of a University. Not only do they lead cheers, but they play the game with their hearts as well.

FOOTBALL

With but six new men added to the squad and twice that number graduated, the Purple and White grid squad fared much better than last year and gave Walt Kondratovich a bright outlook for 1956. Winning one and tying another in a powerpacked schedule of eight games, the Knights were barely nosed out of a second victory, dropping a one point thriller.

As happened all through the East, Bridgeport opened on a rain-soaked "mud iron" meeting Yankee Conference Champions New Hampshire and lost not only the game, but the number one halfback, Dick Fresolone, for the remainder of the season. The "Tiger" was injured on a slashing tackle early in the game and was on crutches for the rest of the season. Also listed on the casualty list for the next several weeks was Co-Captain Dave Deep, who received injuries to his ribs.

With these two starters added to the injury list which had claimed signal-caller Steve Butkowsky in the final workout before the season, things looked even darker for the locals as they tasted two more defeats, 25-0 to strong Upsala, and 13-0 to Hofstra.

When Sophomore halfback Bobby Mark raced for the Knight's first touchdown of the year in the American International fray, it looked as if the Knights would break the 12 game losing streak that extended back through the opener of the 1954 season, but the Aces eventually won, 12-19, after Bridgeport's final bid went by the boards late in the fourth period.

Even in defeat the Knights looked sharper than they had in many games with four sophomores, Mark, Jerrv McDougall, Charlie Pike, and Butkowsky, and junior, Ed "Rebel" Hall, providing most of the action. The pass receiving of Ed "Yankee" Hall also brought praise from the skeptical Bridgeport fans.

With Butkowsky seeing only limited action from the Hofstra game on, but warming up to the task, the Knights were more hopeful, but Deep's injury was felt severely and the Knights took losses 14 and 15 on the nose, dropping a 33-7 decision to Brandeis and a 33-0 count to New Haven.

The celebration that followed the game the next week can be rivaled nowhere in the pages of history. The Knights' dressing room was a frenzy with coach's, players, and anyone else who could squeeze through the dressing room doors pounding everyone else in sight. Joe Marrucco could have run for Mayor, Governor, even President and carried the votes of all UB, for it was he who ran 33 yards for the only score of the day against Teachers College of Connecticut at New Britain to give the Knights a 6-0 victory.

But it wasn't all Marrucco, each and every player who had a hand in the game was being hugged, tummeled, and kissed. The room was full of talk about the punting of Pike who kept the Teachers in trouble all through the game, of the quarterbacking of 'But' and 'Dougall' and so on down the line. "Rebel" Hall, who had played on his first winning team in any sport at this school was the gayest of all in the party that lasted through the night.

The following tie with Wilkes College was anti-climatic with neither team making more than one serious bid for a score. The curtain came down on a 1-6-1 season that gave much promise of better years to come.

In the aftermath of the season, Dick Cipriani became the first Bridgeport griddier to be named All-American twice, being named to the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics again as in 1954. An end, Cipriani was the bulwark of the Bridgeport line on defense as well as a more than able pass receiver.

Four Knight's were also named to the All-State football squad. Deep, who missed most of the season but managed to shine when in the game despite the injuries, acting captain George Straparro who was named captain after Deep and Fresolone were hurt, "Yankee" Hall and Pike at center, tackle, end and halfback respectively.

FRESHMEN FOOTBALL

With Lou Saccone, perhaps the greatest name in Bridgeport athletics, at the helm of the first freshman football team, anticipation was high as the fledgling Knights opened their season against Hofstra College. The margin of a single extra point was the deciding factor as Dick Wakim and Paul Lessard matched touchdowns with the Dutchmen Frosh, but lost 13-12.

Powerful Cheshire Academy handed the "Hossmen" a 12-6 defeat and Upsala College freshmen blanked them 6-0 before the Knights could break into the winning column for the first time.

An all out effort that had 600 fans roaring throughout the game was capped by Lessard's touchdown run in the final four minutes of play and the following conversion by Tracy Smith gave them a 14-13 victory.

The final score, coming with Bridgeport trailing 13-7 was set up when John Krehel recovered a New Haven fumble and quarterback Dick Dahn teamed with his fleet backs to bring the ball across the final marker.

Varsity Soccer

Little known and little talked about until a very few years ago, soccer has suddenly blossomed into the limelight among colleges and has assumed the role of a major sport in many of them. Bridgeport is no exception.

With a gallery of stars that had won 13 and lost five in the previous two years, the Knight booters, coached by John McKeon, went all out to improve on their 1954 record of 9-1 and did just about that. The record was the same, but the way it was done is what made it better.

Losing only to Springfield College, generally ranked number one or two in the nation, the Knights ran roughshod over nine other opponents including three in the Eastern Soccer League. Six of these victories were shutouts and in no one game did the opposition score more than one. With deference to making excuses, two of the goals were scored on rain soaked fields and might possibly have been averted, except for the mud.

For this fine defensive record, the Knights were rewarded richly as goaltender Jimmy "Mouse" Davins was named to the first string All-American team by the National Collegiate Athletic Association's soccer coaches, and defenseman Nick D'Aluisio was received honorable mention by this body.

Opening against Hillyer, the Knights looked sluggish in winning 4-1 as Mike Belmont, all time high scorer, started the season off right with a pair of goals. New Jersey champion Rider was next on the list and went down 2-1 in the rain as the Knights remained in their "slump." Regaining their preseason form, the booters scored their first shutout against Adelphi College, winning 4-0. It was the fifth shutout in 11 games for Davins who was looking sharper in each game.

Springfield broke the 11 game winning streak the Knights had compiled over two seasons, 1-0, but the game has been termed by McKeon as the best ever played by one of his clubs. The vaunted Springfield offense kept the Knights in trouble all day long and only brilliant defensive work by D'Aluisio and Bob Stevenson kept the Bay Staters away many times. Davins, as usual, was brilliant in the nets, making five saves that the chief referee that day termed "impossible!"

Undaunted by the loss, the Knights started all over the next day, downing the University of Massachusetts, 4-0, behind the hat trick of Belmont, who seemed to be scoring three goals every other time he stepped on the field. Albany State Teachers, tormentors of the Knights for two successive years fell before the mighty Purple and White horde 6-1 in a vengeance game for every member of the squad. But, the New Yorkers got in the last laugh by scoring a goal, the last one that Bridgeport allowed for the rest of the year.

Scoring 18 goals to their opponents none, the Knights rolled over Hofstra (Knickerbocker Conference Champions), 2-0; Boston University (ranked among the top 10 in New England), 2-0; touted Brandeis, 7-0; and closed the season with a 7-0 rout of Fordham University (semi-finalists in the New York City Championships).

Most of the "Wonder" squad will be gone next year, but McKeon expects much help from a talented group of freshmen and several of the holdovers including reserve goalie Stan Roman who saw only limited action this season but was not scored upon, as well as Gibby Emack, Dave Dooman, "Greek" Strekorous, and Bill Sveda.

The first Freshman Soccer squad in the history of the University of Bridgeport found itself on the short end, schedule-wise, but managed to rack up an impressionable 3-1 record under the coaching of Jim Profetto.

The Yearlings scored 10 goals against but 3 to their opposition. At first, it seemed like there would be no team, but three men from the Freshman football squad lead two lives as they joined the soccer squad to bolster the team.

Opening against Cheshire Academy, the Knights pulled a trick out of their elder's hat by blanking the Prepsters 5-0. In a return engagement, the Knights proved that this was no fluke, knocking over the Academians 3-1.

The only loss of the season was against Wesleyan University Freshman, to the tune of 2-0. Wesleyan, always a strong soccer school in Connecticut circles, shot two quick goals late in the second half to drop the Knights.

Returning to the victory road the Profetto-men whipped Milford Prep 2-0 to close out a shaky but well-deserved victory season. With the makings of next year's varsity soccer team on the roster, the Knights seem to be in line for another good season when the Yearlings "grow up."

Varsity Basketball

They say a football takes funny bounces, but if the sphere they call a basketball had bounced in the right direction five times in two games, Bridgeport might have been hailed as a small college basketball powerhouse during the 1955-56 season instead of having to take a back seat.

Of the 21 teams on the Purple and White schedule, two of them, Manhattan College and St. Francis College can be classed as near great. The former was the opener on the sked, and, although the final score was 98-81, it comes nowhere near telling the true story.

Bridgeport was on top for 30 of the 40 minutes of the contest, leading by 11 points at the midway point of the second half. Then came the bounces. A bad pass here, a steal there, and the more experienced Jaspers were ahead to stay.

To say that that game was demoralizing is beyond dispute as the Knights had a tough time untracking themselves for the rest of the season picking up a big win at the hands of powerful New York Athletic Club but dropping several others.

The second one was tougher. St. Francis, ranked 17th in the entire country and riding the crest of a 15 game winning streak piled up a 19 point lead after one half of play, scoring 33 points in the final eight minutes of that session. The second half however has been called by old time Bridgeport fans as the greatest 20 minutes of play by any Knights squad.

Starting with the tip, Bridgeport scored 11 goals the first 12 times they had the ball and cut the Terrier lead to seven points but a three-point play by the New Yorker's captain put an end to it and, with it, the Knight's hopes of the biggest upset of the basketball year.

The season was not however without its bright points. Jimmy Davins, as usual was his own great self as a scorer, playmaker and defensive giant. Backcourt veteran Harry Peters and newcomer Al Weiss took over the guard slots with a great deal of ease. But the biggest surprises were the sophomores; Dick Balog, Mike O'Donnell Rick Topham and Charlie Methe who alternated in starting berths throughout the season, playing some of the best ball on the club and giving coach Herb Glines a bright outlook for the coming season.

Although the loss of co-captains Davins and Bill Duggan will be felt severely, Glines will be able to call on several other veterans, including Larry Babich, Sid Green, Stan Roman and Gerry McDougall for bench strength and, with addition of several freshmen stars, the '56-57 season could prove quite interesting.

Track

With Alvin Clinkscales and Phil DuBeuil, the two greatest individual stars to ever wear the Bridgeport thinclad uniforms, gone, the Knights started their rebuilding campaign in 1955 and wound up the season with a 1-4 record.

The season, dismal on the record side was not without its moments of glory, however, as two Bridgeport marks were lowered, the mile relay and 100 yard dash records taking serious falls.

Led by captain Dave Deep, the ready squad chopped a full ten seconds off the old standard in defeating Fairfield University in 3:41.5 on performances by Dave Deep, Dick Cipriani, Dick Fresolone and Stu Randall. The relay record set that day also provided the winning margin for Bridgeport that day as the Knights won 60-52 after leading 55-52 going into the final event which means five points for the victors and none for the runners up.

Randall, who shared in the relay record went undefeated throughout the season in both the 100 and 220 dashes, lowering the 100 record four times before setting the standard at 10:2 in the finale. This final time was a drop of six-tenth of a second off the existing mark.

Other squad members who figured high in the scoring column for Walt Kondratovich's Knights were Joe Kraynak and Sam Berstein in the distance, and Nick D'Aluisio, and Paul Hennion in the field events.

Through the first six games of the 1955 baseball season it looked as if John McKeon's magic charm was working again when the Knights piled up four victories against two defeats including a big victory against Manhattan College.

The inaugural against Rider put a short damper on the Bridgeport hopes as the Jerseyites blanked the locals 8-0 but the following day found the Purple and White with their hitting clothes on as they romped over Newark College of Rutgers 29-5. Four home runs capped the day's doings as every member of the Bridgeport squad hit safely. Jim MacNabola, Hal Trischman, Norman Chacho and Joe Candella supplied the long range power in the seven inning game with the victory going to Dick Lugg.

Three days later, Pierre Vaporis, counted upon by Johnny 'Mac' as the dean of the UB staff had his knuckle ball doing tricks and defeated perennial power Manhattan 4-3 at the losers field in New York. Behind the brilliant four hit pitching of the "Chunky Chucker" one a wind blown triple that accounted for two runs, the Knights played perfect defensive ball for the first time in six years. Outstanding play of the day was shortstop Jimmy Davins' running catch of a pop fly down the third base line. With two men out and two on Vaporis was trying to protect a slim one run lead in the fifth inning when the Jasper batter hit a high pop down the 300 foot left field line. Davins, turning with the crack of the bat raced to within five feet of the fence to grab the ball in fair ground with his back to the plate and averted what might have been disaster for the Knights.

The loss of six starters from the 1954 squad was supposed to have hurt the Purple and White, but speculation rose to its high point following the Manhattan game. McKeon had come up with a first base find in Lorin Beresnyak and the squad was playing as a unit. Hal Trischman had taken over behind the plate and the outfield, tho' not as strong at the plate was a good defensive unit with Joe Candella in left, Johnny Esposito in center and Norm Chacho and Charlie Petrino alternating in right. Hary Peters was having a better year at second and McNabola was playing heads up ball at third. This with the addition of Beresnyak and the usual steady ball of Davins was the core of the McKeon infield.

Long Island champion Hofstra evened the Bridgeport record at 2-2 handing the Knights a 5-1 defeat, picking up their runs early only to be held by Norm O'Donnell and Mort Faherty from the fourth inning on. O'Donnell's fine relief job against Hofstra earned him the starting shot against Fairleigh-Dickinson and he came through in fine fashion to win 3-2 with an assist from Faherty in the last inning.

Fran McLaughlin drew the starting assignment for the Danbury game which turned out to be the biggest win the Knights piled up all year. Five minutes before game time, McKeon told the squad that Beresnyak had come down with diabetes shock and that the team had to win this one for him. Lugg took over at first base and with Johnny Esposito hitting the first home run of his career the Bridgeport nine won a 6-4 decision for the "Bres." McLaughlin who pitched six innings with a blister on his pitching hand had to be lifted in favor of Faherty in the seventh inning and the number one reliefer of the staff took just 11 pitches to retire the final nine Danbury batters.

The edge that the Knights had built up fell apart by the next game and through the next month and a half the Purple could not get into the win column, taking ten losses in a row on the chin. Only the return of Beresnyak as a pinch-hitter brightened those April and May afternoons. "Bres" back on the Bridgeport bench for the first time came through with a pinch hit run scoring single in a losing cause against Upsala that meant more to the club members than the win or loss that day.

It took Faherty, who had been relieving in every game but the Newark debacle, to get the Bridgeporters back in stride with his first starting assignment after 15 relief appearances, 14 in succession. Going all the way against Hillyer College, Faherty did not allow an earned run as the Knights won 7-5. Although tired in the late innings, Faherty refused to come out of the game and rewarded McKeon by allowing only one hit in the final three innings.

The Knights wound up with a 5-13 record, dropping the finale to Fairfield University and with five starters returning, McKeon was hopeful for a better loss and better luck in 1956.

Looking ahead with General Electric

How do you measure up in leadership qualities?

A young man who can lead has always had a good chance of success, but his prospects were never better than now. There's a steadily growing demand in industry for men to fill top professional and management jobs . . . fellows with a special ability to work well with other people and inspire their best work. At General Electric, we're constantly on the lookout for them.

Ten traits we look for, above, add up to a pretty good indication of potential success in business. Not everyone has them all to a top degree, but the basic characteristics are always present and can be developed in the men we pick to help lead General Electric. We hope you can rate yourself very high on the list and find it helpful.

Congratulations!

You're a college Graduate!

Someone's been watching you grow and is mighty proud of you today. Read's has seen you graduate first from diapers to dungarees and then from lollypops to lipsticks. Today you've graduated from college. We're mighty proud.

We've served you for so many years. (admittedly now, some of those first times were rather trying.) You touched the merchandise with chocolate covered little fists and your mother said hurriedly, "He'll grow up someday . . . Why, maybe he'll even get to work here! (After college of course.)" Her prediction might well come true.

We've watched and waited and tried to help . . . occasionally we hoped. You've attained your goal and we're proud of you. Ours is an institution that has a place for you. Our personnel executives look forward to discussing your career . . . your potential . . . your particular capabilities. Drop in at our personnel Office, Read's East Building, John Street. Let's discuss your future!

*Congratulations to the Graduates
